Dave has been paying a lot of money to different companies (Youtube, Hulu, Netflix, etc) to watch online movies and dramas. He want to cancel some of the services to save some money, but he doesn't know what is the best option.

With our web app, Dave will be able to check how much time he has been spending on online movie or drama, and how much time he has been spending on each companies.

Dave realized he is using Netflix for most of the time, so he was able to confidently cancel all the other services and saved money.
